A1 PC Consultants Ltd has a satisfied group of customers, situated in and around the West Midlands and Staffordshire, including local authorities, financial services clients, blue chip companies and SMEs.

A1's mission is to solve challenging technical problems in partnership with its clients. A1 understands the business needs of its clients, and how technology can be a tool to make modern businesses more profitable.

we're different...

A1's uniqueness is due to two significant and distinctive factors:

- First, our exceptionally deep technical expertise allows us to take on projects often perceived as too complex or difficult by other developers.
- Second, we believe in working in partnership with our clients to understand their unique needs and working methods. In our experience, working together consistently results in creating intelligent solutions to meet our client's evolving business demands. This collaborative style of working has resulted in the development of exceptional software.

Exceeding expectations, understanding our clients' businesses and architecting robust high-quality solutions at surprisingly affordable costs are just a few of the key differentiators that set A1 apart from other software development and consultancy firms.

Unlike some packages on the market today our policy is, and always has been, one of continuous development on features that reduce the time to market for our customers. Typically, we release three to four versions of our applications per year with major functional enhancements in addition to maintenance and minor releases as required. This focus on development makes us more dynamic as a company and allows us the flexibility to provide both new functionality and maintenance releases to the customer more frequently.

getting it right for you...

We believe that customer care is a keystone of our success. Our technical support is free via telephone, email and our website and our support staff are always here to help you.

Direct channels exist to the development team allowing us to provide quick and comprehensive responses to even the most complex problems.

We consider user feedback to be of vital importance when determining development schedules for new releases and have a formal system for logging and prioritising implementation of such features.

With a constant search for the ultimate milestone that compromises consistency, stability and goodwill in the market we are catering to, A1 gives and adheres to it's commitment at all times. We are totally committed to the quality of our service and our multidimensional approach has resulted in a vast and strong customer base.

our strengths...

Our persistent strengths lie in our prudent and rational approach in doing things, timely anticipation of the market trends and most important the coordination and team approach of our personnel. By providing a comprehensive spectrum of services right from web designing, Software Development, web hosting, e-commerce, security solutions, etc along with quality service and multidimensional approach, we work only on one theory, 'To give a customer exactly "what they want" and not "what we have"'.

A1 PC Consultants Ltd strives to provide exceptional services at prices that are affordable to all sectors. Our prices are tailored to each customer, reducing some of the budgetary constraint issues that can occur when applying static pricing structures to smaller companies.

We believe that our customers should be given access to affordable services without substituting quality and after sales support.

Regular pricing reviews and competitor analysis allows us to stay ahead of the game and create business opportunities that many other companies fail to recognise.
